GUIDELINES FOR STATE EMPLOYEE LEAVE TIME AND STAFFING – COVID-19

As provided in Executive Order 103, the protection of the health and well-being of New Jersey residents and the State's workforce is a primary concern. It is equally important to ensure the continuous delivery of essential State services during the rapidly evolving outbreak of the novel coronavirus, COVID-19. Therefore, government operations need flexibility to address staffing capabilities to ensure essential operational needs are met. Similarly, employees require greater latitude in applicable leave time procedures to prevent further spread of the virus and to prioritize their health and the health of their immediate family members.

Thus, in accordance with Executive Order 103, which authorizes and empowers the NJ Civil Service Commission ("CSC") to promulgate rules and to waive, suspend, or modify any existing rule where its enforcement would be detrimental to the public welfare, and specifically authorizes the Commission to take appropriate steps to address the public health hazard of COVID-19, the CSC, with the approval of Governor Murphy, has issued the following guidelines:

Alterations to Existing Work Arrangements

As a general matter, State agencies, commissions, political subdivisions, and other Appointing Authorities subject to the provisions of Title 11A of the New Jersey Statutes (collectively, "Appointing Authorities") may implement flexitime programs (N.J.A.C. 4A:6-2.6), alternative workweek programs (N.J.A.C. 4A:6-2.7), and adjusted daily or shift hours (N.J.A.C. 4A:6-2.8) upon approval of the CSC Chair or her designee. However, pursuant to the emergency declaration in Executive Order 103, Appointing Authorities are permitted to implement or modify flexitime or alternative workweek programs and may adjust established hours of daily or shift operations without the need for prior approval. These flexitime arrangements may include modifications regarding hours of work and break times. Prior to implementing a new program or a modification of an existing program, Appointing Authorities shall advise the Governor's Office of Employee Relations ("GOER"), of any anticipated modifications to hours of work or leave times so that GOER may notify affected negotiations representatives of the modifications before implementation.

Further, these Guidelines conditionally waive certain provisions in N.J.A.C. 4A:6-1.4 regarding sick leave procedures for the State service.

Applicable Leave Time Procedures

If an employee is (i) diagnosed with COVID-19, (ii) directed by a medical professional or government agency to self-isolate or quarantine due to suspicion of exposure to or diagnosis with COVID-19, and/or (iii) undergoing a period of self-quarantine or isolation pursuant to public health assessment recommendations, then the employee will not be required to utilize accumulated leave time if they provide documentation verifying the same within three work days of the initial absence. As with any documentation of an illness, the documentation should be provided to the Appointing Authority's representative or office tasked with receiving sick or FLA-FMLA leave documentation and maintaining its confidentiality under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act. If an employee does not provide such documentation, then the employee will be required to utilize their own accumulated leave time.

If the absence is caused by the employee's need to care for an immediate family member who (i) has been diagnosed with COVID-19, (ii) was directed by a medical professional or government agency to self-isolate or quarantine due to suspicion of exposure to or diagnosis with COVID-19, and/or (iii) is undergoing a period of self-quarantine or isolation pursuant to public health assessment recommendations, the employee shall submit documentation verifying the family member's COVID-19-related illness, exposure, and/or quarantine period to the Appointing Authority's representative or office tasked with receiving sick or FLA-FMLA leave documentation within three days of the employee's initial absence. If no such documentation is received, the employee will be required to use accumulated leave time.

Employees who have been exposed to or diagnosed with the COVID-19 virus will not be permitted to enter the workplace until they are either medically cleared (regarding those with COVID-19) or until the expiration of the recommended 14-day period of quarantine from the point of last exposure (regarding those who were exposed).

Until further notice, employees who had previously been subjected to documentation requirements under their Appointing Authority's standard operating procedures due to excessive absenteeism or abuse of sick leave shall not be disciplined for future absences that occur as a result of their being suspected of or diagnosed with the COVID-19 virus or having to be absent to care for a family member impacted by the virus.

School Closures

Employees who are not under suspicion of having been exposed to the virus or diagnosed with the virus but wish to stay home with a child due to the closure of a preschool program, elementary or secondary school, or child care center related to COVID-19, will be required to provide documentation verifying the closing. As explained more fully below, Appointing Authorities should review their current Continuity of Operations Plans to determine if requests to work from home can or should be accommodated for both essential and non-essential employees during the period of the closure. If a work from home arrangement cannot be accommodated, such employee will not be required to use accumulated leave during the period of the COVID-19-related closure.

If the employee is staying home to care for a child who is under suspicion of having the virus or has been diagnosed with COVID-19, the employee will be required to provide documentation from a medical professional or government agency in order for the leave time procedures outlined above to apply.

Staffing

Appointing Authorities should be actively reviewing their current Continuity of Operations Plans (COOP), including lists of employees designated as essential. In the event of a partial or full closure of State government operations, essential employees should be notified regarding whether they are required to report to work, in accordance with their essential designation, and will be paid at their regular rate of pay. As required, representative unions should also be notified of such changes.

Appointing Authorities should also be reviewing their current COOPs to determine if requests to work from home can or should be accommodated for both essential and non-essential employees during the period of the outbreak.

In the event of staffing shortages that disrupt the usual delivery of government services due to diagnosis and/or necessity of quarantine, it may become necessary for Appointing Authorities to reassign essential work duties to ensure continuity of operations. This potential temporary assignment of out of title work is permissible pursuant to N.J.A.C. 4A:3-3.4 so long as (1) the employee is otherwise qualified for the out of title work, (for example, if a temporary assignment requires an employee to be licensed in a particular trade, an Appointing Authority may not assign someone without such a license to perform the work), (2) the assignment is temporary in nature, and (3) the employee's normal job duties resume upon return of the absent employee(s).

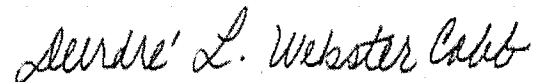

Subject to the requirements of N.J.A.C. 4A:6-2.5, essential employees may be required to work from home under certain circumstances, at the Appointing Authority's discretion. In these circumstances, the Appointing Authority must provide all equipment, tools, and resources necessary to accommodate such work.

Required Medical Documentation

For cases where individuals are undergoing a period of isolation or quarantine under the circumstances described above, documentation from a local, state or federal governmental agency, a medical professional, office, or hospital or proof that the employee was recently in a location where the recommendation by a governmental agency is to self-quarantine will satisfy the requirement to provide documentation. Additional forms of documentation may be permitted by the State agency, commission, or Appointing Authority following consultation with the Chair of the CSC.

For cases where individuals are caring for an immediate family member sickened by or diagnosed with COVID-19, then the employee shall submit documentation verifying the family member's COVID-19-related illness to the Appointing Authority's Human Resources Office within three days of the employee's initial absence.

If an employee is absent from work without sufficient documentation confirming diagnosis or quarantine or isolation due to exposure or potential exposure, standard leave rules apply.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS FOR EMPLOYEES
STATE EMPLOYEE LEAVE TIME AND STAFFING – COVID-19

1. If I am diagnosed with COVID-19, what should I do?

The employee should notify their human resources office as soon as possible and forward medical documentation confirming diagnosis within three business days to the Appointing Authority's representative or office tasked with receiving sick or leave documentation. Diagnosed employees should stay home and follow medical direction regarding treatment and absence from work. In accordance with the Guidelines, employees can be absent from work for the time period specified in accordance with the provided documentation without using accumulated leave time.

2. If I have been diagnosed with or exposed to COVID-19, when can I return to work?

Employees who have been exposed to or diagnosed with the COVID-19 virus will not be permitted to enter the workplace until they are either medically cleared (regarding those with COVID-19) or until the expiration of the recommended 14-day period of quarantine from the point of last exposure (regarding those who were exposed).

3. What if I am quarantined or otherwise unable to work due to exposure to COVID-19?

If an employee is directed by a medical professional or government agency to self-isolate or quarantine due to suspicion of exposure to or diagnosis with COVID-19, and/or is undergoing a period of self-quarantine or isolation pursuant to public health assessment recommendations, then the employee will not be required to utilize accumulated leave time if they provide documentation verifying the same within three work days of the initial absence.

If an employee does not provide such documentation, then the employee will be required to utilize their own accumulated leave time.

4. What if I become ill during a work day and suspect I have symptoms consistent with COVID-19?

All possible cases of COVID-19 will be taken seriously. If you become ill while at the workplace and suspect your symptoms are consistent with COVID-19, you should immediately contact your human resources office, who will ensure that you are separated from other employees and sent home, consistent with guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the New Jersey Department of Health (DOH). That guidance is available at <https://www.nj.gov/health/cd/documents/topics/NCOV/Guide%20for%20business%203-4-2020.pdf>.

5. What happens if I am impacted by the COVID-19 virus through a school closing?

Employees who are not under suspicion of having been exposed to the virus or diagnosed with the virus, but have to stay home with a child due to the closure of a preschool program, elementary or secondary school, or child care center related to COVID-19, will be required to provide documentation verifying the closing. An Appointing Authority may accommodate requests to work from home under certain circumstances. If a work home arrangement cannot be accommodated, the employee will not be required to use accumulated leave during the period of the COVID-19-related closure.

6. If I need to stay home to care with a family member diagnosed with COVID-19, what should I do?

If the employee's absence is caused by the employee's need to care for an immediate family member who (i) has been diagnosed with COVID-19, (ii) was directed by a medical professional or government agency to self-isolate or quarantine due to possible exposure to or diagnosis with COVID-19, and/or (iii) is undergoing a period of self-quarantine or isolation pursuant to public health assessment recommendations, the employee shall submit documentation verifying the family member's COVID-19-related illness, exposure, and/or quarantine period to the Appointing Authority's representative or office tasked with receiving sick or leave documentation within three days of the employee's initial absence. If no such documentation is received, the employee will need to use accumulated leave time.

7. If I am subject to documentation requirements due to excessive absenteeism or abuse of sick leave, will I be penalized for further COVID-19 related absences?

Employees who had previously been subjected to documentation requirements under their Appointing Authority's standard operating procedures due to excessive absenteeism or abuse of sick leave shall not be disciplined for future absences that occur as a result of their being suspected of or diagnosed with the COVID-19 virus or having to be absent to care for a family member impacted by the virus.

8. What type of documentation will I be required to submit?

For cases where individuals are undergoing a period of isolation or quarantine, documentation from a local, state or federal governmental agency, a medical professional, office, or hospital or proof that the employee was recently in a location where the recommendation by a governmental agency is to self-quarantine will satisfy the requirement to provide documentation. Additional forms of documentation may be permitted by the State agency, commission, or Appointing Authority following consultation with the Chair of the Civil Service Commission.

For cases where individuals are caring for an immediate family member sickened by or diagnosed with COVID-19, then the employee shall submit documentation verifying the family member's COVID-19-related illness to the Appointing Authority's Human Resources Office within three days of the employee's initial absence.
